Notice.

DIFFICULTIES arising from the nature of the following work, the publisher has been compelled to remove to Philadelphia for the better execution of his plan. The editorial department has in consequence fallen into other hands. Mr. ALLEN's present engagement rendering it impossible to superintend it in another city. The friends and relations of the different signers to the Declaration of Independence are therefore requested to direct their favors to the publisher, No. 443, Market-street, Philadelphia.

A Biography of the Signers

OF THE

Declaration of Independence,

Accompanied with Plates.

To which will be annexed a History of the Proceedings of Congress, during the passage of the Law, and the Declaration itself, with the fac simile Engravings of the Signatures.

By JOHN SANDERSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the perilous occasion which demanded the exertion of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing spectacle has been offered to the world, and we shall seek it vain in the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, and of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people. The love of independence is interwoven with the frame and constitution of the human mind. It is almost the first sentiment that animates the infant's features in the cradle; and amongst all the actions and enterprizes of man, none has awaked into activity a greater exertion of the virtuous energies of his nature, none has excited a greater warmth of veneration, and has more imperious claims upon our gratitude, than resistance to tyranny and political aggression.

In all republican states the first tribute of genius has been paid to the patriot or the hero who has promoted the cause of liberty and maintained the independence and dignity of man. The animated canvas and breathing marble have rescued his features from the grasp of death, and the pen of the historian has inscribed the achievements to the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no favorable prognostic of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They have raised us, by their magnanimity, from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they have asserted and maintained the imprescriptible rights of humanity by the "mutual pledge of their pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors;" and, as long as virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world; their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be confounded in the common and casual transaction of life—Ingratitude is a vice that in nations, as well as individuals, indicates the last degree of degeneracy and corruption; it is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Caligula that the name of the Scipios was proscribed, that the state of Brutus brought death on its possessor.

"The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity," and the homage of the living cannot be offered to the merits of the illustrious dead with an effectual or sterile admiration. Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the life and character of those who are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. The trophies of Miltiades interrupted the sleeps of Themistocles; and Theseus, hearing the exploits of Hercules, was fired with his spirit, and became the successful rival of his fame. The rude savage of the desert listens with rapture to the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs around his hut the emblems of his father's valour.

More need not be said to enforce the utility of the publication we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow-citizens, with a hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our biography, upon the generosity of their surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages, octavo, and contained in ten numbers. To the first will be prefixed an appropriate frontispiece—and the work will be commenced with the declaration of independence, with engraved fac similes of the signatures, and a compendious detail of the proceedings of congress, during the passage of the law. Each of the lives, unless when it is impracticable, will be preceded by a likeness of the person, engraved by the best artists in the United States.

II. It will be printed on fine paper, made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number, payable on delivery.

AFFAIRS WITH SPAIN.

From various letters received by the Hornet, from Cadiz, some of which are written by men high in Spanish confidence, if not authority, it is reduced to a certainty that the treaty with Spain is not ratified; that the negociation between Mr. Forsyth and the Spanish secretary of State, has terminated, and that a Spanish minister may shortly be expected to make the necessary explanations to our government, on the subject. It is understood in the court circles of Spain, and we presume correctly, that the difficulty arises out of the large grants of land which had been made, and which grants our government refuse to acknowledge as valid. SHOCKING MURDER.

On Thursday evening last, about 8 o'clock the dwelling-house of Mr. Jacob Gould, of Stoneham, nine miles from this town, was entered by four ruffians, and the family, consisting of the above persons, Mr. David Gould, jun. his brother, a maiden sister, & a female domestic, were assailed, knocked down, and wounded; and Jacob Gould, attempting to defend himself with a chair, was stabbed in three places with a knife, and overpowered. The family were then compelled separately to point out the places where their money was kept; and the ruffians robbed the house of 1000 dollars in specie. They then tied the hands of the whole four, threw them into the cellar, and nailed the cellar door on them; threatening, if they gave any alarm, to put them to instant death, and set fire to the house. The family continued in the cellar two or three hours, fearing the ruffians had not left the house, & being unable to extricate their hands, and burst the door. Mr. David G. jun. at length untied his hands, broke the door, and gave the alarm; the robbers having made off — Mr. Jacob Gould lived until about two o'clock yesterday morning, and then expired of the wounds he received. A reward of 500 dollars for the detection of the murderers is offered; and we learn that the posse comitatis of Middlesex are in pursuit of them. All the ruffians were well armed with long knives; two of them were tall, and two short; and one of the latter wore a short jacket and trowsers. Mr. D. Gould and his sister were both wounded with the knives. The faces of three of the robbers were blacked, but their hands were seen to be white. This murder and robbery is almost unprecedented in our country, and we doubt not, from the exertions made to detect the murderers, that they will be speedily apprehended.

We learnt last evening that a fellow by the name of Warren, and who answered to the description of one of the above ruffians, was apprehended yesterday skulking in W. Cambridge woods. [Centinel.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.

An accident which had like to have been of very serious consequence, occurred about two o'clock yesterday afternoon, at Bartholomew fair. A carpenter, who was standing on a scaffold, upwards of forty feet from the ground, in front of one of the exhibition booths, whilst in the act of fixing up the exhibition pictures and lamps for illuminating at night, the stick on which he stood either broke or gave way, and he fell on the musicians, who were seated in a kind of temporary orchestra underneath, rattling away at their discordant music; he drove one of his legs through the head of a drum, and broke two or three of their bassoons and hautboys. The exasperated musicians, instead of affording the unfortunate man the smallest assistance, actually threw him over into the midst of the crowd, when, unluckily falling on the top of an oyster stall, he overturned the owner, together with the table, three tubs of oysters, the bread, pepper and vinegar. The oysterman showed him no more mercy than the musicians, he laid hold of him by the hair, which he pulled out in handfulls, and attempted twice to stab him with his oyster-knife. The proprietor of the booth, who was standing on the front of the hustings at the time, and was an eye-witness of the whole, jumped down, and by promising to recompence the oyster-man for his loss, he rescued the poor carpenter, and had him conveyed, with blood and bruises, to have his wounds dressed, none of which, we are happy to learn, were of any serious consequence, considering the extraordinary height from which he fell. SYNOPSIS OF MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS FROM EUROPEAN PAPERS.

An Irish paper mentions that in the garden of the Rev. Richard Bowen, in Wexford, there was in Hydraugen, in the open air 21½ feet in circumference, and 5 feet in height, bearing 606 flowers, some of eight inches in diameter, and so closely connected as to appear as one flower——In 1818, the offences in Ireland were as follows—total number committed 14,564—convictions 5377—acquittals 2451, no bills found 1521, no prosecution 935, bailed and not tried 1414, died in gaol 3, remaining for trial, 1850—Of these 316 received sentence of death, and 104 were executed. In 1818, the debtors committed to various goals in Ireland, amounted to 6,601. The Galway Irish paper has published a story of a mermaid having lately been seen basking upon the rocks of Derrygimla, in Freisbeg, (Cunnemara) after the ebbing of the tide. It was first seen by a woman, and also by Thomas Evans, Esq. of Elleggar. From their statement it was about the size of a well grown child of 10 years of age, with a bosom prominent as a girl of 16, a profusion of dark long brown hair; full dark eyes, hands and arms formed like the human species, with a slight web connecting the upper part of the fingers, which were frequently employed in throwing back her flowing locks, and running them through her hair. For near an hour she remained in apparent tranquility, in view of 300 persons, until a musket was levelled at her, which having flashed in the pan, she immediately dived and was not afterwards seen. Mr. Charles Dibdin has written from 1800 to 2000 songs, 13 serious pantomines, 35 harlequin do. 35 melo dramas, 42 musical pieces of one and two acts, exclusive of comic operas and other pieces played at Drury Lane and Covent Garden theatres.—A wag in Belfast lately stuck up a label in a conspicuous place in that city, announcing the arrival in town of three gentlemen, who all had a particular objection to dining at inns, prefering private invitations to dinner as well as supper, and calling upon the hospitible inhabitants of the town to shew their customary politeness, and addressing them where to send their cards of invitation. The intention of the placard was an attack upon certain persons who were constantly in the habit of taxing their acquaintances in procuring meals without expense, very often to the great expense and annoyance of the domestic circle.——A cork paper in announcing the arrival in that city of a Dr. Magee, Bishop of Raphoe, says—his promotion to a seat on the episcopal bench, while it forms a splendid era in the history of the church, will reflect no less credit upon the administration which has had the good fortune of promoting such a man. We believe that since the administration of Lord Fitzwilliam no act of the Irish government has been hailed with such a general feeling of applause and entire approbation.——The princess Maria Josephine, of Saxony, to whom the king of Spain is married, was 16 years of age on the 6th of October last. Ferdinand was 34 years of age.——From letters from Italy, published in a London paper, the writer, in giving a description of Palermo, which has a population of 150,000, says—a small room ten feet square, lodges a whole family of eight or ten persons, with their stock of furniture, &c. Among the lower classes there is no such thing as a family or domestic meal; what they eat they take in their hands, and make their repast while walking the streets, and afterwards take their rest on the flat pavement in some public place, where they frequently pass the whole night. ——A clerk in one of the banking houses in London lately absconded to America; his defalcations amounted to several thousand dollars.

FROM FOREIGN PAPERS

Received on the 29th ult. at the office of the N. York Com. Adv. by the ship James Monroe, in 27 days from Liverpool; and the ship Seine, 27 days from Havre de Grace.

The price of stocks in London continued unsteady, but on the whole rather improved since our last advices. Various rumors were daily set afloat on change for the purpose of influencing the market. Among the number was the rumor of the change of an approaching change of ministry. On this the Courier asserts that it is totally unfounded.

On the 25th Oct. the king of England entered on the 60th year of his reign—4 years longer than that of any other British sovereign. The park and tower guns were fired on the occasion.

Meetings of the radical reformers continued to be held in various parts of the kingdom, and to counteract the spirit of disorder, several important towns had offered to raise volunteer corps for the public safety.

The duke of Portland, the earl Harwood and lord Grantham are each spoken of as likely to succeed earl Fitzwilliam as lord lieutenant of the West Riding of York.

It is stated in the Liverpool papers that the Grenville party in England are about to unite their influence with the present ministry, and that the only obstacle to a complete combination is the scruple of lord Liverpool and his friends on the point of catholic emancipation.

A Madrid paper of the 7th October mentions, that the young and beautiful queen of Spain had arrived at Vittoria, and had attended a bull fight, which was exhibited in honor of her arrival. She appeared displeased with the spectacle, and declined attending a second exhibition.

Mr. Carlisle bookseller, in London has been indicted, tried, and convicted of the crime of blasphemy in publishing Paine's Age of Reason." It is said that 20,000 copies of the work had been scattered over the country. Mr. Carlisle closes a letter to the chief justice in the following unblushing strain—"R. Carlisle begs to inform his friends, the deists of the metropolis, that he is now confined in the king's bench prison for want of three persons as bail, one in 400*l*, and two in 200; one in 400 being ready. He hopes that the cause of deism will not long remain under this stigma." The stigma, as he calls it, on the arrival of Mr. Cobbett with the bones of Mr. Paine, will doubtless, be speedily rubbed away.

It is stated in one of our latest papers, that on the 25th of October, "at the different meetings of the Union societies of radical reformers in London and Westminster, the bust of Hunt was publicly broken to pieces, and he was pronounced unworthy of their future confidence. A signal instance of the instability of popular favor.

Yesterday the following impudent letter was sent by Thistlewood to lord Sidmouth; the bearer of it was the renowned Waddington—

My lord—It is generally believed that in consequence of your late (unfortunate to you I think it will prove) directions to the magistrates of Manchester, which caused the inhuman butchery and horrible effusion of blood on the 16th of August; that your lordship holds the office of chief secretary of the home department upon a very precarious tenure. I therefore must urgently request your lordship, while you have power, to do an act of justice to an injured individual, will not let the opportunity pass without availing yourself of it. Your lordship well knows that when I was illegally arrested on board the Alien brig, my loss was upwards of 186*l*. I therefore entreat you will send me, out of the candle-ends and cheese-parings of office (which it is said you have partaken most plentifully) the sum of 180*l* and three years' interest—compound interest, my lord, of course. This is a necessary act of retribution, and will make some amends for your lordship's past misdeeds.

I wrote to your lordship about a fortnight ago; the letter miscarried I have no doubt, for your lordship is too polite to omit answering a correspondent.

I am, &c. ARTHUR THISTLEWOOD.

P. S. Perhaps your lordship would, to save further trouble, both to yourself and me, send the bearer by my friend Samuel Waddington.

35,000 thousand troops were reviewed at Warsaw on the 5th October by the king of Wirtemburg.

A Stockholm article of Oct. 8 mentions that a great national festival has been celebrated in the Soderlige. The canal was opened in the presence of the crown prince, &c. The canal has been finished in 12 years. Among the vessels which first sailed through was a steam boat with many passengers from Stockholm.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

The Montreal Gazette of the 17th instant, mentions that the great obscurity in the atmosphere which took place in that city on the 6th, (which has been noticed in our paper) occurred at the same time both at Three Rivers, and at Kingston—but nothing of the kind was perceived at Quebec. The Gazette adds—The frequent Earthquakes which have been felt in this province, and the rain which fell during the obscurity being impregnated with a sooty substance, naturally creates a belief that it must have been occasioned by the eruption of a Volcano situated at the north East, probably on the coast of Labrador..

SMOKY ATMOSPHERE.

Letters from Louisville, Ky. inform, that a great part of the woods between that place and Lexington, a distance of 74 miles —were in a blaze; and at Louisville the inhabitants had been nearly suffocated with the smoke.

"Such a season," adds one of the letters, "has never been witnessed in this section of the country. Horses and horned cattle were suffering severely, and some have died with a distressing disorder of the tongue, which they have termed the tougue distemper. It first shews itself in lumps on the tongue, afterwards the throat is effected, and the animal is unable to chew or swallow. I apprehend that this is occasioned by thirst; as when travelling, I have frequently called at four or five public houses; distant from each other three or four miles, without being able to get any water for my horses. They can furnish water for the man, but are compelled to refuse it to his horse. Heaven grant that we may soon have a heavy rain."

EXOTIC INCENDIARIES.

I read with attention the communication in your paper respecting the very frequent burnings of our most valuable manufactories, and cannot longer withhold an opinion I had long entertained on the subject, an opinion the result of much reflection, an opinion which I have formed slowly and admitted with caution; but which I find is gaining ground since the destruction of the patent machine rope factories.

It is very difficult to believe that these terrible deeds of self destruction are the acts of native neighbors; because they are against nature, pride, and interest; not but what an insane man, drunken man, or a slave, enraged to madness by cruelty, would do any thing horrible to destroy his oppressor or himself. The series, and course of these deeds of destruction wear an aspect of deliberation." Polonius discovered that the madness of Hamlet was feigned; for, said the old man, "if this be madness, there is system in it." We say the same of these burnings—there is system in them. Some say, it cannot be that any christian people should be so depraved. Alas! how little do the great bulk of our people know what some folks have done the other side of the water, and would do again to monopolize commerce. Take one instance of it, extracted from the London Courier of April 4, 1817, viz.

"At Lancaster assizes, 46 persons received sentence of death. In October last, it was proved in a court of law, that a club of conspirators at Manchester, perjured themselves by wholesale, to the amount of 130 at a time; and now it is just proved that a knot of assassins can be as easily hired in England as in Italy. 300 of Messrs. Rodin's workmen, at Loughborough, having conspired against their employers about wages, subscribed a fund and hired, at five pounds each man, a squad of assassins, well skilled in the art of house burning, and murder, who destroyed their master's premises in revenge."

We give the above extract from a London newspaper, and leave our capital manufacturers to make their own comments on it.—See also on this head more to the same effect in the notes subjoined to Walsh's book, just published. We wish all our mechanics had a copy of this interesting publication. It ought to be in the hands of every American that loves, honors, and is disposed to protect his country from every species of foreign villainy. NEPTUNE.

The Savannah Museum says, that the privateer Impress, Bradford, belonging to Mr. Kirtland, of Kingston, Jamaica, took 8000 dollars in specie out of the schr. Sam, Fleetwood, of Baltimore, on the 12th Sept. last. The privateer was formerly the Poor Sailor, of Charleston, S. C.

MR. GOURLAY.

We mentioned last week, that this man had sailed from Quebec for Liverpool. The Albany Daily Advertiser, on giving the same information, adds—'Mr. Gourlay was several weeks in this city, after his exilement from U Canada; and, previous to his leaving this for Quebec, he paid a visit to Mr. Cobbet, at N. York; and, on his return, declared to a friend, that many of the plans and projects of Cobbet met his utter abhorrence, as most profligate and immoral.—He added that Cobbett informed him, that he had totally failed in all the measures he contemplated when he came to this country, and that he was miserably poor and dejected. And we would here remark, that Mr. G. himself carried with him evident marks of dejection, disappointment and mortification." Com. Adv.

We received on Saturday last, by the schr. Ghent, from St. George's, a file of Bermuda papers from Oct. 27th to 17th instant.—their contents generally, uninteresting—We have made a few extracts from the "Bermudians"—We received at the same time from our attentive correspondent at St. George's, a file of the Barbados Globe & Mercury, from 2d to 27th September, from which we may glean something hereafter, but they contain no news.

We were handed yesterday, a St. Thomas' paper of 5th inst. in which we find nothing interesting —H. B. M. ship Salisbury, Rear Admiral Campbell, returned to the port on the 3d of Nov. from Laguira, and fired a salute. The 5th of November, being the anniversary of the Gun Powder Plot, was celebrated at St. Thomas's, by firing of salutes, &c [Beacon.

Congress will assemble on the 6th of December, several of the members have already taken their departure from this state, in order to take their seats at the commencement of the session. Several of the leading papers are already busied in cutting out work for the legislative taylors to make up during the approaching session. Among the most prominent are noticed, the Florida Treaty—the basting threads are to be taken out of this, after which, it will only want pressing.—Then will come on the National Bankrupt Bill, and there being so many loop-holes in this it will require considerable stitching.—Next comes on the amendment of the charter of the National Bank. This job has been already sponged and basted, but as it seems rather badly it must undergo some alteration; short there is a sufficient quantity of great and weighty business to or occupy the collected wisdom of the Nation for a six months session. [Newburyport Herald.

From a gentleman who has arrived at Pensacola, which place he left on the 10th of October we learn, that no reinforcement of troops had arrived there, as has been reported. The Spanish governor Calhava, is represented to be respectable as a man and as an officer, but it was supposed, if the U. States should be obliged again to send a force to occupy that post, it would not be in his power with the means at his disposal, to make any serious resistance. We yet hope there will be no necessity for that step on our part. [National Intelligencer.

An affecting anecdote is related in the French papers:—A young man took a dog into a boat, rowed to the centre of the Seine, and threw the animal overboard with intent to drown him. The poor dog often tried to climb up the side of the boat, but his master as often pushed him back, till overbalancing himself he fell overboard. As soon as the faithful dog saw his master in the stream he left the boat, and held him above water till help arrived from the shore, and his life was saved!

In one of our late London papers, we find an extraordinary trial and conviction for murder of an African by the name of Quai Pei. It appeared on the trial, that his object in committing the murder was, that he might eat the body of his victim, which he had actually done; and on being questioned by the Court, as appeared by the interpreter, he observed, "He like him too much—if he catch him, he eat him." [This trial took place at Sierra Leone, on the 15th of May last.] [N. Y. Gaz.

A bloody battle of an hour and nine minutes was fought on the 28th ult. in the suburbs of London, between Turner and Martin, for 100 guineas aside.—Twenty thousand persons formed the ring! The London Traveller of the 30 ult. says, 'This morning, at an advanced hour, we received the Paris papers of Wednesday last. Deputy Gregoire, it seems, has been omitted in the circular which invites the members of the Chamber of Deputies to assume their places on the opening of the Session. "All the Journals," observes the Moniteur, "whether great or small, are busy with the opening of the Chamber by the King, Will Mr. Gregoire dare to meet the King and swear allegiance to a Bourbon? says one. Will he insist upon his right? says another. A ministerial Member will move his exclusion with the cry of Vive le Roy, says a third; and if he should be rejected, Grenoble will force him back upon the chamber, says a fourth." Viscount Chateaubriand returned to Paris on Monday last, and M. de Villete reached that capital on the same day, but immediately set off again for Britanny. The Cardinal Archbishop of Paris had an audience of the King before breakfast, on Tuesday last; afterwards his Majesty transacted business for two hours with the President of the Council, and took an airing at three.' Last evening, on board the U. S. sloop of war Hornet, lying at the Navy yard, a sailor while ascending the main rigging, to assist in sending down the topgallant yard, from his eagerness to perform his duty, heightened by the pleasing reflection that his time had expired, and he would shortly be enabled to meet his relatives and friends—fell from the shrouds, struck his head upon the spars stowed in the chains of the ship, and fell overboard.—Mr. Mayo, first lieut. saw his perilous situation from the quarter deck, & notwithstanding the severity of the weather, with that genuine spirit of benevolence and humanity which exists only in the hearts of the generous and the brave, plunged into the water to save him—followed by a sailor from the forecastle. They succeeded in getting him on board, but he was so severely injured he survived but a few moments. It is indeed a pleasing task to record a circumstance so highly commendable in Mr. Mayo—when forgetting the disparity of rank, and regardless of the coldness of the weather, he saw in him only an unfortunate man and an old shipmate, whose life he would preserve at any risk.—By this act he has added another to the many proofs already given of his love for his men and his value as an officer—while such feelings as these exist between the highest officer* and meanest seaman, where is the surprise at the subordination in our navy?

* Capt. Reed being now at Washington, lieut. Mayo, commands the Hornet.

PARTICULARS OF THE LATE DUEL AT PARIS.

Extract of a Letter.

Paris, October 12.

You will before this have heard the fatal termination of Captain Pellew's guilty attachment to the wife of Mr. Walsh. The unfortunate young man (Capt. Pellew,) who was but in his 26th year, was shot through the head at the first fire, and died instantly. For the sake of the afflicted relatives of both parties, it would be infinitely desirable that all such events should be buried in entire oblivion: but as that is not possible, it becomes the duty of all who write or speak on the subject to keep in view the moral effects of the example which it holds out.

Mr. Walsh not long since exchanged from the Life Guards, in which corps Captain Pellew held his commission. Prior to Mr. Walsh's quitting the regiment, he had resided with his wife a good deal in the barracks in Hydepark, where, being young and thoughtless, she unhappily received with too much readiness, those attentions which military men often think themselves at liberty to pay to every female. The consequence was such as might be expected to result from such infatuation. A close attachment was formed between Capt. Pellew and the lady; and at length, in a fatal moment, she agreed to sacrifice her character by eloping with the object of her blind affection. About a month since she went off with him from her father's house, where she had been residing for some time, during the absence of her husband. They came to Paris, whither they were followed by Mr. Walsh, he prefering what is called the satisfaction of a gentleman to pursuing any legal means of redress. A Mr. F—— came over with him, and by him the meeting was arranged with Mr. H——, on the part of Capt. Pellew. They were also attended on the ground by Mr. K——, as the friend of Mr. F——, and by capt. S——, as the friends of Mr. H——. Dr. T—— was also present. The distance was 12 full paces and they were to fire together by signal. When that was given, the pistol of Mr. Walsh was immediately discharged. Capt. Pellew did not fire, and it is said he never intended to do so. Mr. Walsh's ball passed through the right temple into the brains of Captain Pellew, who expired even before his body reached the ground. Thus, from the consequences of one false step, perished a gallant young officer, the pride of his regiment, the delight of his friends, and the darling and only child of his fond but now distracted parents. His remains were attended by Sir Sidney Smith, and all his friends in Paris, and the last pious offices were solemnly performed over his body, which was deposited at the Cimitiere of Pere la Chaise on Saturday, the 9th inst. The unfortunate young woman, who has been the cause of so much wretchedness to herself and others, has been conveyed back to England, where she will be under the care of her afflicted family.

LONDON, OCTOBER 1.

Hatton Garden.—Extraordinary Depravity.

Yesterday Elizabeth Smith, a good looking young woman, who lives by prostitution, was brought up from Clerkenwell watch-house, charged by John Chesterman, a constable, with being riotous and disorderly in the public streets the preceeding night, and behaving in the same manner in the watch-house.—That was the thirtieth time the prisoner was examined at that office; she had been once admitted into the Asylum, whence she escaped; she was thrice tried at the Sessions, ten times committed for various offences, for a month each time, to the House of Correction, several times to Clerkenwell prison, and 16 times brought for examination, reprimanded, and discharged.

The constables and watchmen stated that she was so incorrigible, that not a night passed but she was brought on some charge to the watch house, which was taking them from their duty in other parts, of which the inhabitants complained. She was so well known at the watch house, that finding it useless to be taken in charge, they frequently turned her out again.

The Magistrates declared they found themselves at a loss how to deal with her; but they thought it a charity to send her to prison, to keep her from doing mischief.

She was committed for one month to the House of Correction.

Extracts from a Law

Of the Corporation to provide for the speedy extinguishment of Fire, &c.

Sec 1. That every proprietor of any dwelling house, or store house within the limits of the corporation, shall, at his or her own expence, provide as many fire buckets, made of good and suitable leather, and containing at least two and a half gallons, as shall be equal in number to the stories in such house. Provided, That no proprietor shall, in any case be compelled to provide more than three buckets for one house. Every proprietor who shall neglect to procure the proper number of buckets in the manner herein directed, shall forfeit and pay one dollar per month for each bucket he shall so neglect to procure. The proprietors of all dwelling houses and store houses which shall hereafter be erected within the corporation, shall furnish the same with buckets in the manner before prescribed, within two months after such houses shall be occupied; or failing to do so, shall be subject to the penalties before mentioned.

2. Where the proprietor of any dwelling house or store house residing out of the limits of the corporation shall neglect to comply with the requisitions of this act, the occupier of such house shall within two months after coming to the possession thereof, procure the necessary buckets; and failing to provide the same, shall be subject to the like penalties as are in such case imposed on the proprietor.

3. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of police, once in six months at least, to visit the houses within the limits of the corporation to examine and take an account of the buckets belonging to such houses, and to report to the mayor the names of all persons who shall neglect to provide and keep the same, according to the requisitions of this act.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on Thursday, the 11th inst. a negro man, named DICK, who sometimes calls himself Dick Douglas. He is a small man about 5 feet 6 inches high, and is not a very black man. I purchased him from the estate of Edgar McCarty, esq. Cedar Grove, Fairfax county, Va. and it is likely that he may be lurking about that neighborhood or Colchester, as he has a wife at capt. Berry's of the latter place; or he may have gone to Loudoun county, as he has lived there in the neighborhood of Wm. McCarty and John McCarty, near Leesburg. He had on and took with him an old grey cloth coat and a brown do pantaloons of drab colored domestic cloth. He is much addicted to liquor, and is a coarse shoemaker. I will give 20 dollars if taken in the district of Columbia. Thirty dollars if taken in Fairfax county, and the above reward if apprehended in any other place, and secured so that I get him again; and reasonable charges if brought home. WM. B. STUART.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber living in King George's county Va. on Monday the 22nd March, a yellow man named about 22 years of age, his fore teeth wide apart, and cannot speak very quick—had on Virginia cloth clothes and carried off a shaggy great coat, he has a father named Peter Hall, who lives with the widow Morgan, at Oak Hill, Fauquier Co. and his grandfather, old Frederick Hall, is supposed to be living at Mr. Terrett's near Alexandria, and it is likely he may be lurking about there.—I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home. 100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, iving near Aldie, Loudoun county, Virginia, on the night of the 11th inst. a negro man, who calls his name NED BIAYS. He is a shrewd, intelligent negro, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high; 30 years of age, well made, active and polite. Had on when he went away, a sky colored coat, and corded pantaloons. His right eye sore, apparently occasioned by a blow, the blood having settled around it. His ears have been pierced, and had green silk in them when he went away. It is expected he is now lurking about Fairfax court-house and Aldie. The above Ned Biays ran away on the night of the 25th of last Aug and was caught on the 11th inst on the night of which he effected his elopement by drawing the staple to which he was fastened by the handle of a pan, while there was no person in the kitchen but himself. He was caught on the 11th inst. a few miles below Aldie, but I think it improbable that he has gone near the same place again. I will give 100 dollars if he is taken out of the county, and fifty if taken in the county, and secured so that I get him again, and all reasonable charges if brought home. GEO. GULICK.

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY on the 25th of April last, a man called NED, formerly the property of Mr. Fitzhugh, of Fairfax, and by him sold to Hepburn & Dundas. He had on when he went away an old country blue and white cloth coat, and kersey trowsers—his right hand in a sling, in consequence of the kick of a horse. Ned is a stupid looking fellow, and hesitates very much when he speaks. I will give fifty dollars if apprehended in the District, or the above reward for apprehending him out of the District, so that I get him again.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling, RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them.
